Contents

List of Figures & Tables                              vii
List of Appendixes                                    ix
Preface                                               xi
Introduction                                          1

CHAPTER ONE                                            Blacks and the Law                         9

CHAPTER TWO                                            The Ideals of Juvenile Justice            19

CHAPTER THREE                                          Welfare and Justice: Ideal Intentions but Differential Delivery                    27

CHAPTER FOUR                                           Profile of the Aboriginal Young Offender   43

CHAPTER FIVE                                           Police: The Initiators of Justice?         61

CHAPTER SIX                                            Diversion or Trial: Who Decides?           81

CHAPTER SEVEN                                          Panels and Courts: What is Resolved?       93

CHAPTER EIGHT                                          Justice or Differential Treatment?        115
Appendixes 125

Notes 143

Bibliography 145

Index 152